EMD / SD DEPOSITION

Each Auction Event carries an EMD (Ernest Money Deposit) or SD (Security Deposit) applicable to that particular Auction event. Wishful Bidder need to deposit the specified EMD or SD to Auctioneer well ahead of the Starting Date of the auction event. This is in addition to the Bidders to registering themselves successfully on DealMatrix Auctions portal & submitting mandatory KYC documents and Other necessary documents that are specifically mentioned in Auction Sale catalog.

The EMD/ SD deposition mode of instruments may vary from auction to auction. Hence wishful / interested Bidders are advised to notice the allowable payment instrument modes specified in the opening page notification of Auction/ Sale Catalog. Bidder may choose from the available/ allowable modes of payment (specified in Auction / Sale Catalog) & make necessary payments using any one of them according to convenience of the bidder. If any Bidder adopts any other payment mode (apart from those specified & mandates for that particular auction), DealMatrix will not take any responsibility in such mistakes happening from Bidder's end due to error or not noticing or mode unavailable at Bidder end etc AND subsequently it will result in non authorization for the bidder to partake in that auction or non awarding of bidding rights.

Hence it is advised to all wishful Bidders to submit/ deposit the relevant Auction's specified EMD/ SD well in advance, to avoid last minute disappointment, arising from non realization of deposited amount.

Deposited EMD/ SD will not carry any interest whatsoever, irrespective of the time duration for which it lies with the Payee (either Auctioneer or the Seller, as specified in Auction / Sale Catalog). If a participating bidder is declared winner in any conducted auction (in one or multiple assets or lots), his deposited EMD/ SD amount will be accounted/ adjusted with Sale proceeds and/or Auctioneer's charges, depending on the EMD/ SD Payee advise. If a participating bidder is declared non winner (in all assets/ lots) post auction, his EMD/ SD deposit will be returned back within max 7 working days time (from such non winner declaration) without any deductions. If any EMD/ SD qualifies to be refunded to Bidder which couldn't be transferred due to error in Bidder Bank Account related problems or wrong details submission by bidder or any other reasons & Bidder does not claim such refund in person, then all such amounts lying with DealMatrix for more than 6 months will be forfeited without any further recourse.

If any bidder doesn't fulfill the sale proceed or/ and auctioneer charges payment terms & deadlines, he will be treated as defaulter of that auction event & this will result in forfeiture of his EMD/ SD deposit amount without any further recourse with or without prior intimation to the defaulting bidder. EMD/ SD will be adjusted with Auctioneer's charges (if payable to DealMatrix Auctions) or with the last paid asset (if payable to Seller), as the case may be & as directed.
